

1. What fundamentally determines what is reducible error and irreducible error in a model?
2. Verbally describe why increasing the dimensionality of your model (by adding more variables) can increase the variance/flexibility of the model.