1. How is a likelihood function different from a regression model? Provide a verbal description of both.
2. The lecture went over three different model evaluation metrics: RSE, r^2, & F-test. In what contexts would each method be preferred over the others? Provide one example for all three metrics.